FUTURE CAREER

As technology rapidly advances and global challenges evolve, the landscape of future careers is undergoing significant transformation. Today's students must prepare for jobs that may not yet exist, requiring a blend of adaptability, creativity, and continuous learning. The traditional notion of a linear career path is becoming obsolete, replaced by the concept of a career portfolio where individuals may pursue multiple professions throughout their lives.

Emerging fields such as artificial intelligence, renewable energy, and biotechnology are expected to drive job creation in the coming decades. These sectors demand a strong foundation in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) disciplines, coupled with critical thinking and problem-solving skills. However, the importance of soft skills cannot be overstated. Emotional intelligence, communication, and cultural competence will be crucial in an increasingly interconnected global workforce.

The gig economy and remote work are reshaping traditional employment models. Many future professionals may find themselves working as independent contractors or freelancers, managing multiple projects simultaneously. This shift necessitates entrepreneurial skills, self-motivation, and the ability to navigate diverse work environments.

Lifelong learning will be paramount in staying relevant in the job market. As automation and AI continue to evolve, routine tasks are likely to be automated, emphasizing the need for uniquely human skills such as creativity, empathy, and complex problem-solving. Professionals must be prepared to upskill and reskill throughout their careers to adapt to changing industry demands.

While the future job market may seem uncertain, it also presents unprecedented opportunities for innovation and personal growth. By cultivating a growth mindset, embracing technological literacy, and developing a diverse skill set, today's students can position themselves for success in the dynamic career landscape of tomorrow.

Question 12. The OPPOSITE of "obsolete" as used in the first paragraph would be:

- A. outdated                      B. unnecessary                      C. ancient                      D. advanced

Question 13. Which of the following is NOT mentioned as a characteristic of future careers?

- A. the need for continuous learning                      B. the importance of adaptability
 C. the guarantee of job security                      D. the rise of the gig economy

Question 14. Which of the following best paraphrases the last sentence of the passage?

- A. Students should focus on technological skills and develop a growth mindset to succeed in the future job market
 B. The future job market is too uncertain to prepare for effectively, even if students possess technological skills and a diverse skill set.
 C. Success in careers requires students to have a combination of adaptability, tech-savviness, and varied abilities
 D. Personal growth is more important than professional development in future careers because the job market requires good communication skills.

Question 15. The word "paramount" in the fourth paragraph is closest in meaning to:

- A. crucial                      B. secondary                      C. optional                      D. irrelevant

Question 16. The phrase "This shift" in the third paragraph refers to:

- A. The importance of soft skills
 B. The rise of STEM disciplines
 C. The reshaping of traditional employment models
 D. The need for a strong educational foundation

Question 17. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?

- A. The concept of a linear career path is becoming more relevant in modern times.
 B. Emotional intelligence and communication are less important in the gig economy.
 C. Lifelong learning is essential to stay competitive in the evolving job market.
 D. Automation and AI are reducing the need for uniquely human skills like creativity

Question 18. In which paragraph does the writer mention the factors that influence future job creation?

- A. Paragraph 1                      B. Paragraph 2                      C. Paragraph 3                      D. Paragraph 4

Question 19. In which paragraph does the writer discuss the shift in traditional employment models?

- A. Paragraph 3                      B. Paragraph 2                      C. Paragraph 1                      D. Paragraph 4

Read the following passage about the Exploring The Universe and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 20 to 29.

Science is a vast and fascinating field that seeks to understand the natural world and the universe beyond (I). It encompasses various disciplines, including physics, chemistry, biology, and astronomy (II). Each of these areas contributes to our understanding of complex phenomena, (III). For instance, scientific research has led to significant breakthroughs in medicine, renewable energy, and environmental conservation (IV). This essay will explore the impact of science on our lives, particularly focusing on space exploration.

One of the most intriguing aspects of science is space exploration. Humans have always looked to the stars, wondering what lies beyond our planet. The launch of satellites and manned missions has allowed us to gather valuable information about the cosmos. For example, NASA's Mars Rover has provided insight into the potential for life on other planets. Through meticulous research and data collection, scientists can analyze soil samples and atmospheric conditions, paving the way for future explorations. Space exploration also raises critical questions about our existence and the future of humanity. As we continue to advance technologically, the prospect of colonizing other planets becomes more plausible. This endeavor could serve as a solution to the challenges we face on Earth, such as overpopulation and resource depletion. However, ethical considerations must guide these efforts. We must ensure that we do not repeat the mistakes of history, such as the exploitation of natural resources and indigenous populations.

Moreover, scientific advancements have enabled us to develop technologies that enhance our understanding of the universe. Telescopes and space probes allow us to observe distant galaxies, study black holes, and uncover the mysteries of dark matter. Each discovery leads to new questions, further fueling our curiosity and drive for knowledge. The concept of the multiverse, for instance, challenges our understanding of reality and pushes the boundaries of scientific thought.

In addition to exploring the universe, science plays a crucial role in addressing pressing issues on Earth. Climate change, for example, is a significant concern that scientists are actively investigating. Through climate models and data analysis, researchers can predict future trends and propose solutions to mitigate the effects of global warming. Public awareness and education are essential in fostering a collective response to environmental challenges.

As we reflect on the wonders of science, it is clear that its contributions extend far beyond mere knowledge acquisition. Science empowers us to make informed decisions about our health, environment and future. By fostering a culture of curiosity and critical thinking, we can inspire future generations to continue exploring the unknown.

Question 20. Where in paragraph 1 does the following phrase best fit?

enabling advancements that improve our daily lives

- A. (III)                      B. (I)                      C. (IV)                      D. (II)

- A. The mistakes of history              B. The challenges faced on Earth
C. The technological advancements              D. The ethical considerations

Question 23. Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the essay?

- A. The role of telescopes in space exploration              B. The invention of the Internet
C. Ethical considerations in colonizing other planets              D. The challenges of climate change

Question 24. The word "curiosity" in OPPOSITE in meaning to

- A. Interest              B. Knowledge              C. Indifference              D. Exploration

Question 25. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?

- A. Space exploration has little impact on our understanding of life on Earth.
B. Curiosity plays an insignificant role in scientific exploration and renewable energy
C. Ethical considerations are important in scientific fields, except for space colonization
D. Scientific research contributes to advancements in medicine and environmental conservation.

Question 26. Which of the following best summarises paragraph 5?

- A. Scientists are focused solely on space exploration and ignore Earth's problems.
B. Public awareness is not important for addressing environmental challenges.
C. Researchers are primarily concerned with developing climate models without considering public education.

D. Climate change is a pressing issue, and scientists are working to predict trends and find solutions.

Question 27. Which of the following best paraphrases the underlined sentence in paragraph 6?

A. Science helps us gain knowledge about health and the environment

B. Science is only about understanding health and the environment.

C. Science allows us to choose wisely regarding health, environmental issues, and our future.

D. Science limits our ability to make choices about health and the future.

Question 28. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?

A. Science has little impact on daily life and decision-making.

B. Public education and awareness are vital for addressing environmental issues

C. Ethical considerations are unimportant in the context of space exploration.

D. Space exploration will completely solve Earth's problems.

Question 29. Which of the following best summarises the passage?

A. Scientific research contributes to our understanding of the universe and addresses important issues on Earth, enhancing our lives and decision-making.

B. Science is solely focused on space exploration and has little relevance to everyday life.

C. The advancement of technology in space exploration guarantees the colonization of other planets.

D. Climate change is the only challenge that science can help address in the modern world.
